Admission Season

Fall term for Birthingway means midwifery program admissions! The application deadline is October 15th, then interviews are scheduled over the following month or so, up to the annual Meet and Greet on November 16th. Applicants then have a little time to finish up any fall-term prerequisites before our final decision meeting the first week of winter term. It's a busy, fun time that we look forward to every year!

LD&D and CEUs

We just held both the initial and renewal trainings for state of Oregon Legend Drugs and Devices, but we maintain an "interested" list year round. If you need training, but missed it last term, give us a call to be added – when we have enough names, we will schedule a class!

Also, if you're a midwife in need of CEUs to renew your license or NARM certification, you may sit in on individual sessions of midwifery program classes – CEUs will be based on the number of actual class hours you attend and there is a $10 fee to receive your CEU documentation. Contact the school for more information.

Credit Card Payments

We have long had requests that we start accepting credit cards, but for a number of reasons (mainly the expense) it hasn't been possible.

Although we still do not have a credit card processing "machine," we have taken a baby-step towards the 21st century: you may now pay Birthingway with a credit card through PayPal (even if you don't have a PayPal account!) To send us money, or just find out more, visit www.birthingway.org/payment.html

E-Mail Option

If you would prefer to receive this newsletter by e-mail, just write to info@birthingway.edu and let us know!

Community News

Congratulations to 3rd year student Brandee Grider – she was recently awarded a Ford Opportunity Scholarship from the Ford Family Foundation. The selection process for Ford Family scholarships is very competitive; we're so proud of and happy for Brandee!

Extension student Melinda Russell has also been awarded a private scholarship – Melinda will receive the Rebecca and Sada Tarshis Memorial Scholarship from the Oregon Jewish Community Foundation. Congratulations, Melinda!

In apprenticeship news, 2nd year student Jennifer Childress will be attending births on the Oregon coast (where she lives) with midwives from Andaluz.

Angela Truby (of 3rd year),

Stephanie Sherman (2nd year), and Mirra Nerenberg (1st year) are all new apprentices with Alma Midwifery. Congratulations all!

Finishing off our list of congratulations, an extra proud "Hooray" for Ondra Watson, who graduated from the midwifery program in winter term. We wish Ondra the very best as she sets off on the next stage of her midwifery journey!

Good luck to extension students Laurie Perron-Mednick, Kimberly Kincade, and Joy Jech – they are taking NARM this August. We know you'll all do wonderfully.

Please welcome new instructors Susie Corcoran (Primary Care of Infants) and Jamilyn Daniels (Human Genetics). Both will begin teaching this fall term. We are thrilled to have you as part of our community!

A big thank-you to Cascade Healthcare, Andaluz Birth Center, Sarah Taylor, and Madrona Bourdeau for their recent donations of medical supplies for classroom use.

Auxiliary Programs News

Postpartum Doula Program

Our first workshop went beautifully. Eight women participated and we already have two applications for our practicum program. Our next workshop is scheduled for November – look for the registration form in this newsletter.

We are in need of mentors for our Labor Doula and Postpartum Doula programs. Our mentors do not serve as supervisors, but rather provide support and encouragement to students (they doula our students!). If you are an experienced Postpartum or Labor Doula and would like to share your wisdom with a student (and get paid, too) please contact Nichole at Birthingway to learn more.

Certified Childbirth Educators

Congratulations to our recently-certified childbirth educators:

Marina Anderson
Sara Tretter
Kim Wise

These are the first three students to certify under our new childbirth educator program!

Please see our website to view our many student and certified doulas and childbirth educators. And please remember to refer, refer, refer!

Support Group

We've opened up the Labor Doula Support Group to other providers!! Come one, come all and join us for this facilitated gathering for anyone supporting women and their families during pregnancy, birth, or postpartum. Share birth stories, childbirth class stories, postpartum stories, and do a little networking. Dates for the summer and fall:

August 20th
Sept 17th
Oct 15th
Nov. 12th

All begin at 6:30pm and will be held at Birthingway – please contact Nichole at the college if you have any questions.

Welcomes and Goodbyes

At the beginning of June, our fabulous Faculty Coordinator, Debbe Kettle started a full-time job in the mental health field – she will no longer be coordinating faculty, but will continue to teach our Ethics for Midwives course each year. We all really miss seeing Debbe every week, but we wish her the best!

Two new staff members joined us just as our last newsletter was going to print – we asked them to introduce themselves now even though they've become a familiar sight at Birthingway over the last couple months.

Kristen Francis is our new Outreach Coordinator, via the front desk. She has lots of experience with event coordination – for example, getting her 7-year-old daughter out of the house in the morning. She loves motherhood and children, and feels that one of the greatest joys of mothering is answering questions like, "Can we go to the mountaintop and search for wolverines today?" and being witness to realizations like, "You mean this french fry is really a potato?!!" Kristen also has a degree in Photography and takes photos of moms, babies, and children mostly. You can see them online at www.kristenfrancis.net. She has tremendous respect for midwifery, women, and the power within them. She is happy and honored to be putting her energy into getting the word out to the community about Birthingway.

When asked for a bio, our lovely and talented young office lady had this to say for herself: "Hello, my name is Brittany Schleiff and I have been a part of Birthingway since January '07. When I first started here I cleaned, worked in the library, and did misc. things for people. Now, I am the administrative assistant and woman the front office. I love art, piano, and listening to music. In my spare time you will find me drawing, painting, playing the piano, doing random art projects, and just sitting back and relaxing with my best-friend-and-brother Jon and my best-friend-and-boyfriend Dan. I recently have become interested in photography, thanks to Kristen, and hope to take classes next year at MHCC."

Student Council Report

Back By Popular Demand: Student Council!

Due to a recent resurgence of enthusiasm, Birthingway's student council has re-formed. We have now met twice and have made great strides to create a viable and active council to serve our student body. We are very excited about this revitalization.

The council's advisor is Birthingway's Student Affairs Coordinator, Rhonda Ray. She has gathered about her several committed students. First year representatives are Liz Collins, Jules Moon, Amy Jo Rist, and backup Lora Munn. Second year representatives are Ayla Dunn, Lorell Miller and Stephanie Sherman. Third year is represented by Marina Anderson and Jacquie Lynch with Cristyl Garner as backup.

The council would like to invite any and all interested students to attend meetings for which they are available. Decision-making will be by consensus and all present will contribute. We are open to all ideas, suggestions, and concerns.

The council has set up a structure that we think will distribute duties reasonably. Meeting facilitator and timekeeper will rotate at each of the monthly meetings that will be held during the ten month academic year. Secretary will rotate each term (Marina will serve through fall term) and Treasurer (Jules Moon in current school year) will serve for a school year to allow continuity in handling funds. Our goal is to conduct student business in a respectful and balanced manner – sound at all biodynamic?

We have started the planning process for several activities, including a school-wide picnic on June 23rd, an auction in fall term, a school dinner and dance in the winter and, in addition to the repeating, hopefully annual, picnic next spring, we hope to hold a "box sale" – selling boxes of items, handmade by students and other supporters. Our goal is to provide community building activities beyond the established Orientation and Meet-and-Greet as well as raise funds for third year completion gifts, student activities, merchandise, and myriad other possibilities.

Some of our future goals are: to provide an organized forum in which students can have a collective voice within our school; to develop a format in which student liaisons can help with conflict resolution; assisting with outreach events, such as career days and educational opportunities in schools; producing school merchandise; and raising public awareness of birth options.

Watch for the meeting minutes and announcements that will be posted on the student board in the front hall and on a special classroom board in the future. Keep your eyes and ears open... and come join the fun in the flurry of activity.

- Marina Anderson (3rd Year)

ARM MODELS

Have a little extra time on Thursday afternoons? Please come by Birthingway to be an IV model! Our third year students practice IV skills every term, and we are always in need of extra "arms". To be an IV model you must be over 18 and have veins. You will earn $10 per poke, limit one poke per arm. Please call the school at 503-760-3131 to make sure class is being held the day you want to come.

Belly Models

All through fall term, our students will need tummies to touch and listen to so they can practice their midwifery skills. If you (or someone you know) will be at least 20 weeks pregnant by September and would like to earn $20 for an afternoon with our very gentle and loving students, call the school at 503-760-3131.
