Birthingway College Midwifery Program Graduation

“Graduation is a time of completion, of finishing, of an ending, however, it is also a time of celebration of achievement and a beginning for the new graduate.”

- Catherine Pulsifer

Each year we come together to honor the dedication, commitment, and hard work of those who have completed all of their required course work in our Lactation Consultation and our Midwifery Programs. After countless late nights of studying, ringing ears from listening to hours of lectures, and gulping down gallons of coffee and tea, these wonderful women deserve celebration and rejuvenation.

On the evening of June 30th, family, staff, preceptors, and faculty came together to celebrate the accomplishments of our lovely Midwifery Program graduates at Zenger Farm. The night was filled with laughs, tears, musical performances, cake, and champagne and the venue was beautiful.

Birthingway is so proud to announce the following Midwifery Program graduates:

Heather Arild
Margaret Bennett
Cassandra Grimes
Nora Hawkins
Nicole Nguyen

Danielle Boettcher White
Sarah Ehrlich
Cortney Holmes
Desiree Lang
Divya Za

Community News

Midwifery students Sarah McClure (extension), Rosemary Loperena Moure (third year), and Emily Mejia Jensen (first year) gave a presentation in July at the Chicas Healthcare Careers Camp, a program of Adelante Mujeres. Rosemary demonstrated palpation skills and a volunteer youth helped her determine Emily's baby's position. The presentation was to give young Latina women information about the midwifery model of care and midwifery as a health care profession.

Reaching

by Sarah Kellogg

Make her tall and strong like a mighty tree in the dense forest.
Unyielding to the most sudden gale.
Steadfast in her stance and supported by the deepest of roots.
Her bark thick and worn with wisdom and victory through the ages.
Let her bare witness to change in the rings of her pulp and remain resilient with grace and peace.
Her branches extend like feathers ever-sensing.
Reaching to catch all the universe has to offer.
Giving back to the sweetness that embodies her presence.

Her Nature.

Faculty News

Over the past year, Birthingway has had a number of faculty step away to pursue other adventures. Fortunately, where there is loss, there is gain, and we are excited for the 11 new instructors who will be teaching various courses throughout the year.

In addition to new faces, you can also expect to see some current faculty members teaching courses that are new to them. We are very excited to be expanding the Birthingway community and will be welcoming all of them with open arms.

Staff News

In late July we said goodbye to Lauren Ferns, our Operations Coordinator who began working with Birthingway in June 2015. We were sad to see her go, but excited at what this new phase in her life will bring for her.

While we will miss her, we are excited to announce that we have a new addition to the front office. Drake Carnahan is now our new Operations Coordinator! With a B.A. in Social Sciences and a minor in Civic Leadership from Portland State University, she has a passion for education and social change. Drake experiences have taken her all over, from studying philosophy in India to working with biodynamic agriculture in Peru.

Drake has specialized in outdoor education/conservation, leadership development, service-learning and mindfulness practices. Her free time is spent adventuring with her partner around the world, training her puppy, creating dreaminess through polymer clay, DIY projects out of recycled materials, indoor/outdoor gardening and even some occasional fire dancing. While she has only had heavy experience in the ways of chicken birthing, she is eager to become familiar with the human variety of this experience. We are very excited to have her join our community.

Over the last couple months, Birthingway has gone through many changes, including our library. Our Library Assistant, Tina Weyland will be a friendly face that you will be seeing much more of, as well as our new Librarian, Daina Dickman.

Daina has worked in a variety of academic, medical, public, and school libraries over the years. She has a Master of Library and Information Science from San Jose State University and an MA in Comparative Studies from Ohio State University.

She is the former co-director of the Bay Area Doula Project, an organization focused on training and providing full-spectrum and abortion doula care. She recently moved to Portland from Stuttgart, Germany and is thrilled to be part of the Birthingway community.

Please stop by and take a moment to welcome our new staff members.

Campus Update

A lot has changed on campus this summer. The Carlton building has been completely emptied and everything moved either into the Foster building, into storage, or to a new "home." Everyone is working hard to prepare for our returning students when fall term begins on Thursday, September 15.

The library is settling into its cozy new space. We've moved in all essential books, DVDs, and journals, as well as the student computers and copy machine. Less frequently accessed books and journals remain available by request. And we are extending the library hours, opening 30 minutes before classes begin each week day. Starting with fall term, the library will be open from 8:30 am to 6 pm Monday through Thursday, and 8:30am to 4 pm on Fridays.

Our new library space, almost complete!

We are putting finishing touches on the two upstairs classrooms, including paint and tables for the smaller space. We're creating a new Faculty work area where the student computers used to be upstairs. And the kitchen has a new, lighter look, with new paint and movable islands (relocated from Carlton).

Not only that, we're putting together a student hang-out area in the basement where people can socialize, eat, study, and chill.

There has been some migration among our staff members as well. Sadie (Registrar) is now in the Program Coordinators' office upstairs, and Elizabeth (Finance) and Stace (Financial Aid) now live in the basement office space along with Corey (Tech).

To show off our changes, we are having an Open House/Welcome Back! on Wednesday, September 14 from 1-3 pm. Come and check things out, and enjoy some lemonade and cookies as we head into the new term!

The kitchen got a new coat of paint and is much lighter and brighter!

FALL 2016 ELECTIVE OFFERING OPEN TO ALL
MIDWIFERY, LACTATION, AND COMMUNITY STUDENTS

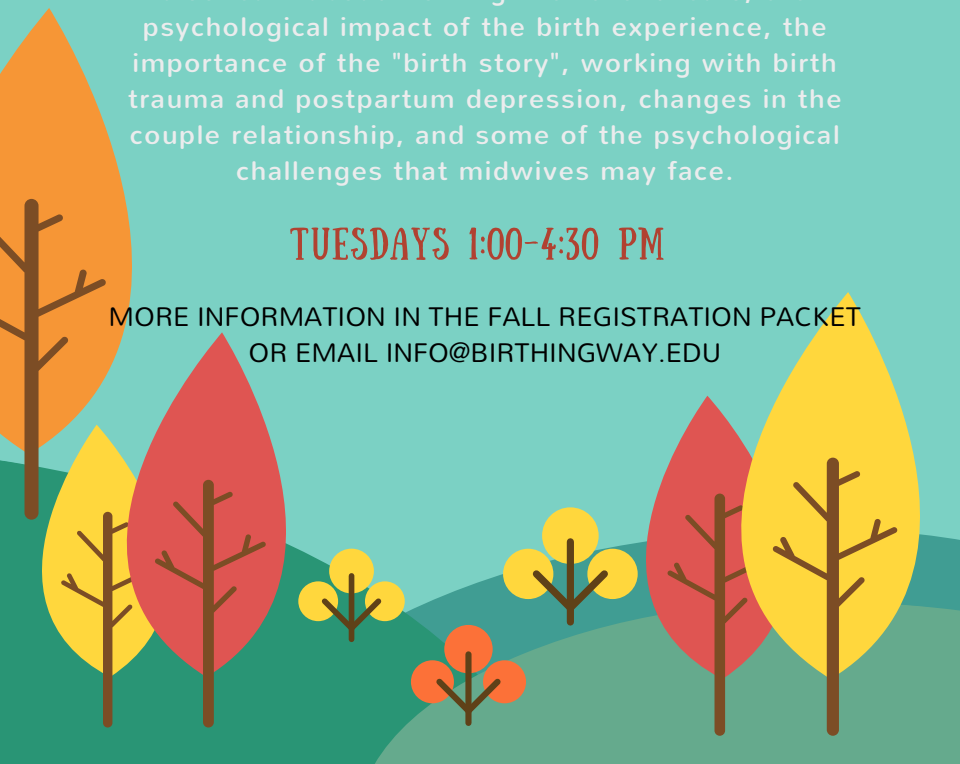

PERINATAL PSYCHOLOGY FOR MIDWIVES

TAUGHT BY BROOKE NOLI, MA

This course explores the psychological tasks associated with the childbearing year, such as shifts in personal identity, working with pregnancy dreams, and prenatal depression and anxiety. Students will also learn about working with client fears, the psychological impact of the birth experience, the importance of the "birth story", working with birth trauma and postpartum depression, changes in the couple relationship, and some of the psychological challenges that midwives may face.

TUESDAYS 1:00-4:30 PM

NARM Approval of BRN Extended

The North American Registry of Midwives (NARM), the certification agency for Certified Professional Midwives, has extended their approval for BRN as meeting their requirements for neonatal resuscitation.

BRN (Biodynamic Resuscitation of the Newborn) is an evidence-based approach to neonatal resuscitation designed for low-tech, out-of-hospital settings. Created in 2010, BRN is based on the findings of the International Liaison Committee on Resuscitation (ILCOR) neonatal task force. BRN incorporates the latest evidence on best practice for assisting a distressed baby in a field setting without advanced technology or a pediatric team at hand, and is based on biodynamic care principles.

NARM first approved BRN as an option for meeting CPM requirements in April 2011. Five years later, in April 2016, NARM again approved BRN, with approval extending indefinitely.

BRN is one of two NARM approved options for training and certification in the knowledge and skills needed to assist transitioning newborns. The other option is the Neonatal Resuscitation Program (NRP), which is sponsored by the American Heart Association and the American Academy of Pediatrics. A hospital-based program dependent on technology such as oxygen mixers and pulse oximeters, NRP includes advanced life saving methods (such as medications and intubation) which are needed by only one out of 2000 deliveries, most of those preterm babies.

A BRN training will be offered at Birthingway College on Thursday, September 8th from 8:30am to 1:30pm.

You can find the registration form on page 11 of this newsletter. For more information, or to learn about how to train as a BRN instructor, call Birthingway.

The Birthingway Community Wants You to be Involved!!

Sustainability Workgroup

Help us generate and implement ideas for how our campus can be a greener, lower-impact place through projects such as energy use monitoring, changes in purchasing, campus education, landscape planning, composting, and recycling.

We're aiming for Gold Level Sustainability at Work status!

Diversity Workgroup

Join us as we come up with ways to encourage and support cultural humility and diversity at Birthingway. Participate in readings-based group discussions, plan and implement campus events and outreach, make suggestions for curriculum improvement, and help with other projects to raise awareness and create a more inclusive community.

Emergency Preparedness

Don't be scared, be prepared! Help our community, both on campus and at home, prepare for serious disruptive events (from the Cascadia earthquake to an ice storm), through solid planning and appropriate supplies, including water, food, first aid, facility safety, and communications.

For more information on these and other ways to contribute to our community, check the calendar section of our website.

By paying through PayPal, you agree to PayPal and Birthingway's terms and conditions. You must include a copy of your PayPal payment confirmation if paying by PayPal, or your registration will be incomplete and delayed until confirmation is received.

Registrations are accepted by mail or fax; walk-ins are accepted in the front office during office hours only (please see www.birthingway.edu for listed hours). Registrations will be date/time stamped in order of receipt. Registrations received BEFORE registration begins will be processed at the end of the first registration day, in order of receipt. Registrations received AFTER the registration deadline will incur a $75 late registration fee. If you fax your registration (503-760-3332) it is your responsibility to call and confirm that we have actually received your fax. If your fax doesn't go through, your registration will not be complete and could also result in late fees or not getting a course you need. Several courses have readings due the first day of class. Please check with the front office for the availability of the syllabus and/or course-pack ten days before the start of each course.

By signing below, I agree that I have read and understand all policies stated above.
